

PHILIPP RIEDEL

FUTURE, MANAGEMENT, DIGITALIZATION

Philipp Riedel is an expert for innovation and trends within the working world. Terms such as new work, digitalization and artificial intelligence, which cause anxiety and even denial within other companies, gives Philipp Riedel in turn a sense of chance for economic growth and success and steers his business dealings towards these future trends. The successful young businessman and CEO of AVANTGARDE Experts, as a proactive creator of the working world of tomorrow, would like to bring to light other people the potential working behind this development. In his workshops and talks, he inspires his audience as a true „impulse trigger“ for the working world of the future. He gives courage, in these times of „a war for talents“ allowing for another way, living leading future oriented, and conversely succeed in making the next step of transformation from administrator to creator all within the realm of future employee management.
